

HARTFORD YARD GOATS

Case Study by Emily Alves

OVERVIEW

As part of a graduate-level media campaign course, I developed a comprehensive digital strategy for the Hartford Yard Goats, a Minor League Baseball team. The campaign focused on increasing fan engagement, game attendance, and merchandise sales through creative copy and social-first content.

OBJECTIVES

Increase fan engagement, grow brand awareness, and drive ticket/merchandise sales through new media channels.

TARGET AUDIENCE

Gen Z and millennial fans in the Hartford area (ages 18–34), as well as families looking for affordable, local entertainment.

CREATIVE THEME

Theme: “Unleash the Fun with the Yard Goats!”

Aimed to highlight the quirky, high-energy atmosphere of Yard Goats games and connect fans to behind-the-scenes content, gameday experiences, and community stories.

CONTENT STRATEGY

- TikTok & Snapchat: Behind-the-scenes videos, player challenges, and interactive fan content
- Instagram: Game promos, food highlights, influencer collaborations
- Email & Mobile: Timely reminders and promotions to drive conversions

KEY CAMPAIGN ELEMENTS

- Influencer Strategy: Pitch included partnering with local food creators like SisterSnacking to promote ballpark eats.
- Platform Focus: TikTok, Snapchat, Instagram (to appeal to younger fans).
- Fan Engagement: Interactive challenges, behind-the-scenes content, fan stories.

SUCCESS METRICS

- Engagement: Likes, comments, shares, hashtag use
- Reach: Follower growth, impressions
- ROI: Increases in ticket and merchandise sales
- Qualitative Feedback: Fan comments and campaign survey results
